Some Examples of Pesticide Statutes

§3242. Certification of commercial applicators

A. No person shall apply or supervise the application of any restricted use pesticide as a commercial applicator unless that person has the proper certification.

Certification shall be issued only after the applicant has satisfactorily passed an examination. The commissioner shall establish categories and subcategories for certification in different areas of commercial application and shall establish specific standards for each category and subcategory.

Certification shall be valid for three years and shall be renewed in accordance with rules adopted by the commissioner.

The commissioner by rule shall provide for the issuance of annual certification cards.

Commercial applicators may supervise the ground application of restricted use pesticides within the commercial applicator's certification by competent uncertified individuals who are under the direct supervision of the commercial applicator. Commercial applicators shall not supervise the aerial application of any pesticide by any uncertified person.

Some Examples of Pesticide Statutes

§3243. Licensing of owner-operators

A. No person shall own or operate a business engaged in the application of pesticides for a fee unless that person has the proper license. Licenses shall be valid for one year and shall be renewed in accordance with rules adopted by the commissioner. There shall be three classes of licenses:

- (1) Ground applicators
- (2) Aerial applicators who do not apply phenoxy herbicides
- (3) Aerial applicators who apply phenoxy herbicides

B. All aerial applicators employed by the owner-operator shall be commercial applicators. All ground applicators employed by the owner-operator shall be commercial applicators or shall work under the direct supervision of a commercial applicator.

Some Examples of Pesticide Statutes

§3248 Direct supervision

Persons who hold certificates issued under the provisions of this Chapter may provide direct supervision for the application or sale of a restricted use pesticide by competent uncertified persons.

The certified person shall be fully responsible for the actions of the uncertified persons under his direct supervision.

The certified person shall give instruction and direction to the uncertified persons and shall be available when and if his presence is needed.

The certified person need not be physically present at all times unless the commissioner by rule requires the physical presence of the certified person at the time the restricted use pesticide is sold or applied.

§67.2. Theft of timber

A. Theft of timber is the misappropriation or taking of timber belonging to another, or proceeds derived from the sale of such timber, either taken without the consent of the owner, or by means of fraudulent conduct, practices, or representations, with the intent to deprive the owner permanently of the timber or proceeds derived therefrom.

B.(1) Whoever commits the crime of theft of timber when the misappropriation or taking amounts to a value of twenty-five thousand dollars or more shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars and imprisoned at hard labor for not more than ten years.

(2) When the misappropriation or taking amounts to a value of less than twenty-five thousand dollars, the offender shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labor, for not more than five years, fined not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

C. The enforcement division of the office of forestry within the Department of Agriculture and Forestry shall have primary responsibility for collection, preparation, and central registry of information relating to theft of timber and shall assist all law enforcement agencies in investigations of violations of the provisions of this Section.

For Louisiana to maintain a leading position, we must surpass existing standards of agricultural and forestry achievement and seek additional opportunities for growth and prosperity. Louisiana's agricultural industries and its forestry, soil and water resources are critical to the advancement of our state and play a central role in our diverse cultural heritage.

As your Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry, I am committed to working with the farmer and forester, producer and processor and all others to ensure our food is safe, our fiber production among the best and our animals strong and healthy. Thank you for the honor and privilege of serving you. - Mike Strain DVM
